

Gnat Days yard sale in Camilla

It's time again for the Gnat Days Yard Sale. This second annual event sponsored by the Camilla Chamber will take place along Broad Street (GA Hwy 37) and the area of Harney Street adjacent to the Courthouse Square May 2.

The yard sale is a great opportunity for churches, youth groups, civic clubs, families, etc. to have their own yard sale.

Along with typical yard sale items, there will be vendors for food, beverages, crafts and more.

The yard sale is held in conjunction with the 22nd annual Gnat Days celebration in Camilla. Additional events scheduled for the weekend includes the Gnat Days 5K run & walk planned for Friday evening, May 1 and on Saturday will be the Gnat Days Kids' Bike Race, and the Gnat Days Pet Show. The Gnat Days Tasters' Luncheon will be held May 30 at the Gardner House.

Interested vendors should contact the Camilla Chamber of Commerce for a registration form. Signs indicating the Gnat Days Yard Sale will be available for each participant to help distinguish their participation in the event.

Shoppers can plan to begin at 7 a.m. May 2. Look for the Gnat Days Yard Sale Signs located along the route in Camilla.

Applications for the 5K Run, bike races, pet show, as well as tickets to the tasters' luncheon are available at the Camilla Chamber of Commerce.

For more information contact Jennifer Burnum at the Camilla Chamber of Commerce at 229-336-5255.

The deadline for news and advertising is Fridays at noon. Call 723-4376, fax 723-6097 or email us at ecnews@alltel.net

True spiritual worship is more than a song. God is looking for lives that live 'yes' to Him. My prayer for each one is that these words and music from the heart of the Father will minister to your heart and life and call you into His Presence where you can be strengthened in the power of His Mighty Spirit!

— Paul Baskin

Paul Baskin will be teaching at Shiloh Outreach.

Everyone is invited to come and share this worship experience.

Health Notes

Oral vs. Topical Therapy for Arthritis

by Bob Hall, R.Ph.

Nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs) are among the most commonly prescribed drugs and are responsible for approximately one-quarter of all adverse drug reaction reports. NSAIDs are widely prescribed for patients with rheumatic disease - a population at increased risk for serious gastrointestinal (GI) complications. Topical administration of NSAIDs offers the advantage of local, enhanced drug delivery to affected tissues with a reduced incidence of systemic adverse effects, such as peptic ulcer disease and GI hemorrhage. NSAIDs administered topically penetrate slowly and in small quantities into the systemic circulation. Product formulation may have a dramatic impact, not only on absorption rates but also on penetration depth. Concentrations achieved in the muscle tissue below the site of application are variable, but are at least equivalent to that obtained with oral administration. Absorption may be strongly influenced by individual skin properties. Topically applied NSAIDs have a superior safety profile to oral formulations. GI adverse drug reactions are rare with topically applied NSAIDs, compared with a 15 percent incidence reported for oral NSAIDs.
